Description

Hi â€“ Iâ€™™m CFO Eric!â€œ

I started stock investing in 1986, over 33 years ago, and have made a lot of money in stocks. I am a homeschool father of 5, former community college CFO, Vice President, Business Development Manager in Europe, and Mechanical Engineer.

You too can learn to be successful investing in stocks, by developing a clear understanding of the stock market and learning a method for consistently finding and evaluating excellent stock investment candidates.

My comprehensive Stock Market Companion â€“ Stock Investing Course teaches you this and much more!

SMC has proved to be a great place to learn. Eric not only tells you what he does, but explains why he does it â€“ in detail.

Following Ericâ€™s carefully reasoned, well organized, data-driven decision making processes would be great training for any student considering a career in business or a technical field.

Stock Market Companion â€œ Stock Investing Course â€œ

- â€œOffers amazing amount of information with appropriate guidance to help put into practice.
- â€œMore worthwhileâ€œinvestment of time and energy (than traditional high school economics courses).
- â€œStudents might find that they have developed a way to produce income for the rest of their lives.

Eric's S-I-M-P-L-E stock investing strategy makes total sense. I just watched a short video from SMC about Cell Therapeutics, Inc. Eric used the S-I-M-P-L-E strategy to explain the prospect of it being a good future investment, and Elijah and I actually understood it. We are learning together!

Eric Stasak has developed an excellent approach to investment in the stock market, not only as a financially solid arrangement, but as a great way to teach children how to discern market issues and make wise choices.

About

School of Business, Investing, and Finance

Headquartered in Hood River, Oregon USA – the School of Business, Investing, and Finance is focused on teaching principles of investing and entrepreneurship creatively and effectively for long term retention and life-long successful application.

Starting in 2003, the Stock Market Companion (SMC) – Stock Investing Course began as a winter series of Saturday early morning teachings for homeschool students and adults on stock investing and business analysis, introducing and using my SIMPLE investing model.

Demand for this teaching increased as word about it spread. Over time, students of all ages arrived by car and plane to learn this material. A dedicated homeschool parent and friend encouraged me to put the course together in its current format, which I have improved over the years with helpful feedback from students and parents.

Course(s) are carefully structured based on classical education principles of the trivium – with grammar (terms and definitions), leading to logic (thought and analysis), leading to rhetoric (personal application of knowledge and understanding). The format is currently book format arriving in a kit containing all materials together, with online quizzes and videos to facilitate comprehension, retention, and exciting application.
